The Nine From Milwaukee Defeated Again by the Home Team.

Cincinnati Wins at St. Louis-Baltimore Defeats the Brooklyns-Louisville Beaten by Pitteburg -The Memphia Races.

The home team easily knocked the Milwankees out yesterday afternoon in the presence of 800 enthusiasts. McKeon was in fine form and held the visitors down to five scattering hits. Had it not been for errors by Poorman and Moriarity not one of them would have crossed the plate. A Thirteen luning Game. Leuisville, April 21. The Louisville and Pittsburg clubs played a great game of ball here this afternoon before 1,500 people. It was interestingly close and exciting. The score was tied till the thirteenth inning, when a safe hit carried Kuchne to first. Mann then took the bat and knocked the ball out of the grounds and over the tence. Brilfiant fielding and beavy batting characterzed the game. The following is the score

Cincinnati Wins at St. Louis. St. Louis, Mc., April 21 .- The Cincinnati club defeated the St. Louis Browns in a very pretty game to day. Shallix, who pitched for the visitors, and Fontz, who did the work for the home team, were both bit hard, but tine fielding held down the score. The Browns kept the lead until the last inning, when the visitors by a fortunate bunching of hits, scooped two runs and won the game. Clinton carried off the fielding honors, making two splendid catches in center field, one of them preventing the scoring of two runs. The following is the score by innings:

A MERRY ANDREW.

Mrs. Andrew Woods Returns From a Visit to Find Her Husband and Sister Missing.

About two months ago Andrew Woods purchased the merchant police beat at the end of Virginia avenue, of Andrew Buchanan, Wood baving been furnished the money two lengths in frent of Belle B third. Time | to make the purchase by his wife, whom he had married but a few days before. Becoming tired of the work, he has been talking lately about disposing of it, and on Monday Mrs. Woods left for Saymour to see if she could not effect a sale of the beat, As she was leaving, her husband urged her to remain a week, but Mrs. Woods returned last evening on the J., M. and I. train. When she reached home she found that her mother was in another part of the city, and her husband and her sixteen-year-old sister, Mollie Higgins, had gone no one knew where. A careful search for evidence in the matter satisfied Mrs. Woods that her husband and her sister had eloped, taking with them Woods' baby by a former wife, and all the available cash. She said he had sold the beat to another man for $250, and that he had a large sum besides, all of it her money, for he had nothing when she married him. She was in great distress over the matter, and took her station at the depot last night at 11 o'clock to catch the pair if they should try to leave the city on any of the trains. It is probable, however, that they left earlier in the evening, for it was learned that Woods had purchased for the girl a new shawl while on his way to the deput. Mrs. Woods is the owner of the property at 219 Buchanan street, where she has been living, and she says she is satisfied now that all that Woods cared about her was for her money, and she is thankful she kept her home in her own name. On a recent occasion her sister came to her and told her that Woods had made a declaration of love to her, but when questloned about it he laughed and said he was

A Sentinel reporter met a couple of the workmen who refused to strike last night. One of these is a foreman, and both are very intelligent, clear-headed men. They say the strike was in bad taste, N. E. Hicks, Lebanon: W. Athon, Terre do so, as the firm is not able to increase wages at present, and that it is well know that when they are able to do so they will increase all along the line. "I said that it was all wrong to try and force the firm to do something which we know they cannot do," said one of the men referred to. "The company which pute $100,-000 into a business which gives 300 or 400 men work should be notified by the men of their desire for an increase of wages, and of their intention to hunt for work elsewhere, if their wages are not increased. But these men went to the contractors instead of the firm. Then when they went out they ought to go quietly away to other work. Not all of the strikers are bad men by any means, but there are a few, you know, in every crowd, who are vicious, and it is through fear of these that wife, Columbus; J. W.
